

State Counsel Division
Litigation Bureau – New York City
Assistant Attorney General
Reference No. LIT_NYC_AAG_3865

Application Deadline is May 8, 2026

The Office of the New York State Attorney General (OAG) is seeking experienced litigators to serve as Assistant Attorneys General in the Litigation Bureau (New York City office).

The bureau represents and defends the state of New York and its agencies, officials, and employees in civil actions and proceedings in federal and state courts involving a broad range of subject areas arising out of state legislation, regulations, and operations. The bureau's cases are often high profile, frequently present complex questions of constitutional law and statutory and regulatory interpretation, or have significant policy and financial implications for the state.

The bureau's attorneys are assigned to sections within one of three (3) practice groups, which are organized according to specific client agency groupings:

- The Administrative and Regulatory Services Practice Group (ARSPG) is comprised of three (3) sections that principally represent the state's commercial and transportation agencies; judicial, environmental, and labor agencies; and educational agencies.
- The Health and Human Services Practice Group (HHSPG) is comprised of three (3) sections that principally represent the state's public health agencies; mental health agencies; and social services agencies.
- The Law Enforcement Practice Group (LEPG) is comprised of three (3) sections that principally represent the state's public safety agencies.

Across the three practice groups, the bureau's attorneys handle all phases of litigation from inception through trial with frequent opportunities to appear in court. In the Litigation Bureau, attorneys are generalists who handle a wide variety of cases and substantive issues including constitutional challenges to statutes and regulations enforced by their client agencies; labor and employment litigation emanating from their client agencies' role as employers; challenges to administrative decisions and determinations made by their client agencies; and civil rights litigation, such as First Amendment retaliation, Fourth Amendment excessive force, and Fourteenth Amendment due process claims.

In addition to offering a diverse and stimulating litigation practice, attorneys experience a unique balance of both independent and collaborative work; generally manage their own cases, including development of case strategy, drafting briefs, and presenting at oral arguments; and are supported by a team of litigators that prioritizes cooperation, professional development, and teamwork. This position provides an excellent opportunity for both experienced and newer attorneys to continue developing their litigation and trial skills.

Qualifications:

- At least three (3) years of post-graduate civil litigation experience in federal and New York state courts;
- Excellent legal analysis, legal writing and editing, and oral advocacy skills;
- Strong organizational, interpersonal communication, problem solving, and teamwork skills;
- Comfort with and proficiency using technology to complete legal work, including knowledge of and experience with various computer software programs and case management and electronic discovery platforms; and
- Prior complex litigation and trial experience are preferred but not required.

Applicants must reside in (or intend to soon become a resident of) New York state and be admitted to practice law in New York state. Prior admission, or eligibility for admission, to the United States District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York is also required for this position. In addition, the Public Officers Law requires that OAG attorneys be citizens of the United States. A two-year commitment upon being hired is a condition of employment.

The salary range for this position is $83,594 - $178,463 + $4,000 in location pay. To learn more about attorney compensation, please visit the following page:
